F.O.B.—BUFFALO—SYRACUSE—ALBANY—BINGHAMTON—BORDENTOWN, N. J.

Seed markets have remained pretty much stationary for the last four to six weeks. An extra large acreage of seed oats will be planted in the Corn Belt due to curtailment of corn acreage. Most of this acreage will be seeded to grasses and legumes which will create an extra demand for field seed over and above that anticipated last fall. It looks like available supplies of legumes and grass seeds items will all be needed to fill the planting demand.
